Commissioner Reviczky reviewed the timeline for the project.

The interview panel gave a presentation on its findings from the stakeholder interviews. This was followed by discussion by the council.

Commissioner Reviczky explained that the next stakeholder input steps could include an electronic survey, regional listening sessions, and facilitated meetings on specific topics, followed by a statewide summit in December. There was consensus that the interview panel should develop and send out a survey ASAP.

There was consensus that the council should have a special meeting in late August. The meeting will include presentations from a few of the stakeholders interviewed along with time for the council to decide the next steps in the stakeholder input process. Members will be polled via email about their availability for specific dates.

VI. ADJOURNMENT
